Dear Ringgold School District Family,

Over the past two weeks we have been providing communication regarding Pennsylvania Governor Tom Wolf's decisions surrounding the status of school closures. As you may have heard, Governor Wolf has announced yesterday that all schools in the State will remain closed for the rest of the school year. To hear his announcement click here. While many school officials anticipated that this decision might come at some point, we had hoped that our students would be able to return to our physical school campuses this year. We want parents to know that our online/virtual learning will continue.

We realize that there will be questions about when students can access schools to get their belongings as well as a number of other questions about the many functions our schools serve. We want to thank you in advance for giving us the time to meet with our administrators, to receive additional information and guidance from the State, and to obtain feedback from our various stakeholders including teachers, staff and students. It is a top priority that our graduating seniors are recognized and celebrated. The high school administration and students are collaborating for an alternative to the graduation ceremony. As more information becomes available, we will update you.

We want to thank everyone for their continued efforts over the past week. Parents, your support and assistance has been invaluable. Because of your support, our attendance remains high and students are logging into their classes and completing assignments. Our teachers are working hard to engage virtual lessons to keep our students connected to their friends and their schools. We are grateful for the entire Ringgold staff who have each played a part in making this all come together.

On behalf of the Board of Directors and the entire Administrative team, we wish each of you a blessed and Happy Easter and look forward to seeing everyone next week.

Sincerely,

Randall Skrinjorich
Acting Superintendent
Ringgold School District
